

Nishinomiya City Disaster Prevention Map for Flood Disaster (Southern Area from JR Kobe Line)

As of October 2014

This map shows areas prone to flooding and emergency shelter information in the cases of overflow of the Mukogawa River.
 The areas prone to flooding and depth in case of overflow of Mukogawa River show the flood simulated assuming that heavy rain equal to daily rainfall of 247mm (heavy rainfall that occurs once approximately every 100 years) falls in the Mukogawa River Basin, causing the Mukogawa River to rise, overflowing its bank.
 This map is originated from the Hyogo Prefecture CG Hazard Map.
